

Wisconsin Land Information Association

Fall 2011 Regional Conference
Oct. 27-28, Neenah, Wisconsin

GIS for Economic Development

Economic development agencies use GIS to retain, grow and attract business.

GIS technology can be a powerful tool for integrating economic and community data and making informed decisions.

Learn more about current and potential applications of GIS for economic development at this two-day event.

Conference highlights

Demos of American Fact Finder, Community & Business Analyst, Eagle-i, and Locate in Wisconsin

Information on statewide economic development programs from the Wisconsin Economic Development Corporation

GIS applications for planning and development at the local level

UW-Extension and UW-Whitewater programs to provide spatial analysis for economic development

Location

Bridgewood Resort Hotel and Conference Center, Neenah, WI

Registration

Reduced rates for students and WLIA members

For conference agenda and registration visit www.wlia.org

Join WLIA!

Join WLIA to receive discounted conference registration and connect with other GIS professionals!

Join today at www.wlia.org