

WORKSHOPS

Winter Workshop Coming Up on 1/21!

Happy new year to our Community of Practice! With a new year comes a new chance for us to share our project updates with all of you, and catch up on what you've been working on (and/or hear your holiday stories). Tune in on January 21st from 10-12 CST for our winter virtual workshop, featuring a presentation and discussion on the WICDI culvert geodatabase, as well as plans for phase 2 of the project.

For event details, head here. I will link the workshop Zoom invite and agenda at the bottom of this post as well. Otherwise, reach out to me with any questions/suggestions. See you at the workshop!
